

Publication Policy for the Department of Economics

- 1) To earn points the affiliation of the author at the Department of Economics, Lund University must be clearly stated in the article and the article must have been reported into Lund University's publications database.
- 2) Faculty members wishing to claim points for papers and books that have been published a certain year must make an application by 31 January of the following year. Proof that the conditions in point one have been satisfied must be provided at the same time. For papers published 2009 the application period is extended to 28 February 2010.
- 3) The lists of the A*, A and B journals will be updated at least every two years
- 4) An article in a C- journal can earn an additional 1 point if it has generated 10 or more ISI Thomson citations (excluding self-citations) not later than 5 years after publication. Application for such additional points must be made at the same time as applications under point two.
- 5) Points will be converted into extra research time and/or compensation for conference expenses. The scale for this will be determined in the department's budget each year.
- 6) These principles will take effect for publications from 2009 and onwards.
